Most everything in some way shape or form is a process. A process is one of the most abstract things we have. So, and my desire has been to perfect a process to the point where it is no longer process, but that it is in fact, a display of art and expression of existence. And one thing about forming is is forming, It's a process. For me it's very much process. But [REDACTED] is an art And that's part of my problem.
