So here it is like midnight. Because 1144 when it happened. And so now they're working tail off in the back of the [REDACTED] and then you have this started hearing like tire screeching. And I start hearing Tires screeching I started hearing [REDACTED] driving everything else, and it lasted for about 15 minutes. And it turns out it was a bunch of kids, you know, seeing how long they can screech out their tires how long they can burn out their [REDACTED] tires. And, yeah, it's [REDACTED] you know to skirt around on the road back here, you know, and I don't move back to the woods I don't know what's going on. So, walk up here to see what's going on, you know, and it's like every, every weeknight every weekend. Night. We have a route between midnight and two o'clock in the morning. We had these, these kids coming through here and they might not give it a should not understanding that people try and [REDACTED] themselves. And they're [REDACTED] causing massive they're [REDACTED] you know, I feel like I live on a drag strip. I didn't pay to live in on tracks trip. So.
