Okay, so I'm basically using you to go ahead. I'm not going to share about this because this is [REDACTED] getting to be a little bit on the ridiculous side, but moms have been complaining because she's been seeing a big, big black truck and Mac tacking on his engine and doing the same thing Mr haddix been doing for years. And so I wouldn't buy the attic, the house that's owned by the attic and there's a you know car there and a hat and a truck there. And guess what turns to find out that house there's a big black dodge truck they're brand new. [REDACTED] like the one that's been going down the road redlining his engine. So, yeah, definitely want to try this going down there now it's not the big loud ass diesel that we've been hearing that [REDACTED] maybe Peyton probably is Peyton. So we're gonna have to start, I'm gonna have to [REDACTED] review a lot of footage and try to identify these trucks more, but it's definitely a Haddock thing, and something we're not gonna, you know, we're not gonna live for, they can they can you know the. We've continued we've talked repeatedly to the sheriff's department about it and they're talking about they're they're gone, or whatever will then, all of a sudden like here comes out they move right behind each other so I don't really know how the sheriff is missing them, and I really don't know how the sheriff hasn't caught them yet. I mean, it's like, it actually kind of appeals is like what you know. The sheriff is you know i mean how can I expect the sheriff to protect Lamar county and everything else when they can't even find, you know, they can't even they won't even find out who the [REDACTED] you know, a TV or TV guys that, but I bet you [REDACTED] sure that if I screwed up. They'd be on him like why don't run me on my ass like why don't. So there's definitely like a double [REDACTED] there. There's a double [REDACTED] and it's [REDACTED] not cool. It's not fun at all. But it's one that's good that's got to end and it's got to stop. [REDACTED] like in my house caught on fire you know in the fire engine, you know fires guys they [REDACTED] didn't show up. You know, it's kind of like that.
