Hey 30, hey 27 be exact. How to dodge. I think it's a 2500. It wasn't a 35, it didn't have a diesel engine, and it was 1500 it was a dual cab. Blue silver grid. Silver grid that grid but I'm grill headed silver grill. And it had a bunch of stickers on the back, and it pulled out of some driveway. Down here on the road, and I've been hearing trucks I've been turned red and raised for the past 30 minutes. And when I first [REDACTED] it. I thought it was actually on [REDACTED] because our neighbor does that all the freakin time. But then, by the sounding of this noise is realized it was coming from the opposite direction. And I realized pretty quickly that it was, I mean it, it was. I mean it was loud as [REDACTED] And it was reading out as an engine, and he had been flying through here. And I could tell by the sound of the tires and move into that truck. He was moving it. And, you know, the kid didn't even pause. When he got past me, I'm sitting there saying well and I [REDACTED] said, Whoa, whoa, even slow down. And so I [REDACTED] like didn't slow down like in my dogs out here. My mom's out here. You know, he came up so fast that if I, you know, there's no way I'd even seen him. And so anyway, try get its attention, I was gonna like shoot in the air. But he's been so fascinating really have that time so I shot into the ground, a shot I did like a grazing shot into the ground. And I didn't even really think about where I'm shooting. And of course I saw the round, hit the ground, or the other round hit the ground, and I'm not doing that here now looking at it, I swore it had actually [REDACTED] it like hit a tree. So I'm pretty sure it hit a tree, but it's really not cool.
