[REDACTED] throw this discussion you may be wondering what's in it for this guy? Why is this guy what's his motivation? Why is he writing? Why is he writing all this stuff? What is his motivation? What is his interest concern in be fair? As obviously, as stated multiple, many times throughout the throughout this throughout the spread of this article this throughout the circle, this is concerned this the land in question that were the discussions about his beside his look located in front of my farm, my grandpa's farm. This is this is the farm that I grew up on my home. The only home I've known, the only home I've ever cared to know. And the only thing that I've and something I've worked for years for and I fought tooth and nail, blood, sweat and tears to try to keep this is my look this was my goal. This was a life goal of mine to hang on to daddy's form and to and to expand it to have a working farm that's profitable to be able to expand the [REDACTED] of my family to be able to provide the same environment in which I grew up to my children to live in the countryside to be a part of rural [REDACTED] To mean this is my concern is is myself I mean my concern is my life, my my future, my hopes, my dreams. Everything that I've that I've come to care about in what has been not you know, many years of not having fun. My concerns are legitimate for the you know the benefit of my neighbors for the benefit of myself for the benefit of my community how I wanted I want their you to look you know, I mean, how I want the ecosystem that I inhabit and in the ecology of how I have my being to prosper. I mean, my motivation is everything. I don't you know, you can't be a farmer without land and you cannot increase your profitability. I mean, the main reason for the main way of increasing profitability and farming is by increasing the amount of land that you are farming, more landing equals more, more plants, more, more trees, more products. It's how you, you know, breakeven or it's how you breakeven or it's how you you know, use a buffer to offset damage that has been performed another mark on farming activities. It's kind of [REDACTED] to farm in the middle of a stuff in suburbia. It's kind of [REDACTED] to live in rural [REDACTED] and mills are very and it's kind of [REDACTED] to get used to having neighbors that you really you've never had ever you've never had in your entire life. You know and you don't really want to quote Lincoln, to quote Abraham Lincoln, whenever, whenever Abraham's father, you know, would see smoke rising out of the chimneys on the horizon. He picked the family left because would see smoke rising out of the chimneys on the horizon. He picked the family left because he didn't want to be around people that much. He didn't want to be that closely boxed in he didn't want to have to live in that. That wasn't where he wanted to be. And I find that the same has happened here. And it happened and it happened you know and happen it happened this honestly. It was dishonest. And it happened and it happened. dishonestly. I'm not trying to say there's a right or wrong. I'm not trying to say that. You know life is very because life is obviously not parents. And there's nothing ██████████ but that has nothing to do with ethicality at the ██████████ expense extends beyond law and sometimes what is ██████████ is ethical and sometimes what is ██████████ is not ethical. law enacted an ethics law is an attempt to to instill a unifying belief a unifying set of ethical principles for a community but

but on the other hand, you know, ethics is also is also ██████████ It's not ██████████ And what may what may appear to be ethical for one for one community may not actually be ethical
