A dog [REDACTED] came by with his dad and he was pulling that [REDACTED] trailer that massive trailer he was living out of when he had been living out it for maybe a year, year and a half when he was when he was staying in Dayton's houses. Before he bought the house he was living in a trailer and moved his family out of a house. He had and northern North part of the county. There he had a really nice house David moved to St. Louis out of that house, or that nice house moved them all into that trailer. I mean, they stayed in a trailer behind Dayton towns for almost a year. So [REDACTED] saw that thing go down the road. I don't know where he's going with it what he's up to, but it is you know, the guy the guy doesn't work in our eight hour work day healing works about six hours and he works four days a week, six hours you do the math. It's 24 hours a week. He doesn't work a 40 hour work [REDACTED] So anybody gets a full time a full salary as if he was working full time, a 40 hour work week. So yeah, go figure. I don't know. You can't really, really trust him as far as being thrown so and the other neighbors combined. He's now removed that [REDACTED] dumpster and flatten himself. Ghanaians a crew out there in the middle of nowhere and we're sitting here standing at the big pile of trash and it's gonna be his house and the guy the other one right there sitting on the trash. Isn't this is you know, this is Doug so division. This is the favorite that Doug pulled for us. [REDACTED] ruin our home.
