[REDACTED] another serious Friday to 44 And yeah, it was [REDACTED] another incident of revving their engine their their diesel truck is extremely loud. And several times this week I did not [REDACTED] it but and I did not [REDACTED] it but several times this week they've driven by the house and every time they see us outside they they stomp on the [REDACTED] and it scratches the tires and makes it loud as noise has that modified you know, it's the engine is designed on purpose to be loud. These are these old engines do not have to be that loud. But that's what they need users for [REDACTED] to be loud, your noxious be in the way it's a show thing for them. So that's what it is. And you know every time they come by the house, they tried a rev up their engine peel out and everything else. I have called Six attorneys so far. I've called six of them. That's an interesting little clarification there. I don't know what variety that is. That's something lot of it too. So yeah. Out of these six attorneys are called has has exactly gotten zero return calls. I mean, no one calls him back. So I don't know what to do. I'm [REDACTED] going to keep on going attorneys and so we get right, I guess. But yeah, [REDACTED] how things are going, [REDACTED] how things are going. Not necessarily good. Moms won't forget sometimes, but how much how much trip we've gone through and [REDACTED] forget and you know, whenever I mentioned things you [REDACTED] flipped out into, oh, no, we can't do that. But she's not thinking she's not she's not thinking oh she does figure on responding, reacting but doesn't start good. She sleeps a lot. She knows the day that she drove her car around the pole has access United so it's all a bunch of [REDACTED]. And this guy has security cameras directly facing my house. So I know that's that's not It's not [REDACTED] to state law. There's there's laws that prevent that show. That's called spying but I don't really care because all yours walked in my house and back is what I thought the the grounds would have filled up but now but it's not the oil is [REDACTED] absorbing it and the water the land is so it is so yeah. Been here a bunch of limbs fall everything else a lot of work to do. But everything is sopping wet. It feels like it's kind of stopped right now but it to kind of Misty are missing. We didn't have that the amount of rain we needed. We want to do there. So yeah. And then I yeah, it's [REDACTED] been a rough couple days. Then I found out that indeed not only does indeed sell your information they also discriminate based on on race. So it's not been really good at all. Nothing's really coming together. Nothing I needed to come together and I'm [REDACTED] like living in [REDACTED]
