It's 240 on Wednesday, and I'm trying my best to get a letter finished up to the Dayton's and get that out in the mail as fast as I can. We've contacted no less than six attorneys trying to get some form of representation or counsel. We have yet to. We only received a phone call from one we only received content back from one and when it happened, I was in a deep slumber and I couldn't I [REDACTED] I could not wake up and it was not. I have never completely blanked out like that floor in my entire life. I [REDACTED] completely blanked out I couldn't. I was like I couldn't say anything. I would [REDACTED] stood there with my mouth open and that's not going to really transcribe very well but so yeah, only is Martin snow is the only one that's that's returned our phone call and we've contacted six attorneys so far.

And time [REDACTED] keeps on flying past or neighbor Tyler's I mean they haven't really done anything lately. We haven't really seen much of them lately.

You know, when we do see them they [REDACTED] pretty much like stop and stare they still you know, you know they're gotten and it's I mean, you know it and they they stop at you know, they either slow down their car and stop and watch us or whatever. But we haven't [REDACTED] or seen anything out of them lately. You know, they keep their house they keep their their property lit up like a frickin amusement park and it's [REDACTED] not fun. So we're and then we found that 570 acre lot across the street from us and down the across the highway from us and way down back in those woods there, which is the last remaining bit of untouched you know, greenery in this area that's going to that's been flattened and it's [REDACTED] it's horrible. It's [REDACTED] horrible. My entire hometown and quiet country countryside time I live in it's [REDACTED] been absolutely demolished. And you know, we got screwed over on that deal by Doug and I'm not gonna let that die, but it's not looking good. [REDACTED] a lot of things aren't looking good. Right now. And yeah, it's [REDACTED] difficult times, you know, it's [REDACTED] difficult times. It's been difficult times now for going on 12 or 13 years. But I'm like so far I was trying my best and my computer and we got locked out. So we haven't had anything else to report about it. I mean, it's it's what they did to us. This is [REDACTED] disgusting. [REDACTED] does absolutely disgusting. But maybe we can find representation somehow someday you [REDACTED] get tired of being on the losing team.
